Election kicks off Tuesday

Dutton vs. Taylor in heated run-off

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Bay St. Louis city polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday, as a heated race for the at-large seat on City Council comes down to the wire.

Tuesday's runoff between Peggy Lamb Dutton and William "Bill" Taylor climaxes a month-long special election process to fill the seat vacated by the late James J. Rutherford.

Balloting is citywide, with voters in all four wards eligible to cast ballots. Even those who didn't vote in the Oct. 12 special election may vote on Tuesday.

Dutton was the top vote getter in a nine-way race for the seat, with over 31 percent of the 1,375 bal

Jail cost staggering

BY ED LEPOMA

A Hancock County Juvenile Court Judge has released some staggering figures on what it might cost should she choose to jail youths who break the law.

Judge Robin Gibson was invited to a workshop session Thursday afternoon when supervisors and Juvenile Court officials sought to explore ways to temporarily house juveniles until the county can build its own detention center. Also attending were Supervisors Rocky Pullman, Lisa Cowand, Steve Seymour and Lyonnice "Jeep" Ladner, along with Kenny Hurt, the Sheriff Department's chief juvenile investigating officer and Chancery Court Clerk Tim Kellar.

Gibson prepared a chart showing she handled 331 delinquency cases between July, 1998, and last September. Of those, she said she gave jail time in 59 cases, which amounted to a total 207 days. At $79 a day to incarcerate the youths in Pearl River County or in another county facility elsewhere, it cost Hancock County $16,353, she estimated.

But, had she had the jail space and the option to sentence others, Gibson said she could have ordered incarceration in another 42 cases for a total of 2,938 days at a staggering cost of $232,102 to the county.

Compounding the problem, Gibson said, is that the word is getting out among the young offenders that the county has no place to hold them for at least 48 hours.

Gibson said her ultimate goal would be to Landfill vote under court cloud

BY ED LEPOMA

A cloud is hanging over the fate of a public referendum on the November 2 ballot that will ask voters how they feel on a proposed Hancock County landfill.

Attorneys on both sides of the issue met in Circuit Court here Wednesday, and after a hearing of more than one hour and a half, Judge Jerry O. Terry promised a speedy ruling.

"I know its important to all parties that a decision be made promptly," said Terry. He said he would try to make a ruling before the Nov. 2 general election. "If not, and I rule in favor of the plaintiffs, then I will rule it a void election," said Terry.

The court hearing was on a Bill of Exception filed on behalf of Mississippi Waste of Hancock County, which wants to permit, build and operate a landfill on land it owns in the buffer zone surrounding the Stennis Space Center and near the Hancock-Pearl river county border.

After soliciting proposals, the Hancock County Regional Solid Waste Authority negotiated a contract with Mississippi Waste, but two opposing citizens groups circulated a petition asking the Board of Supervisors to put the landfill matter to a public vote.

Tricentennial lighthouse site chosen

BY ED LEPOMA

Pass Christian's Board of Aldermen has approved the site location for reconstruction of the city's historic lighthouse.

According to Tricentennial Committee Chairman Dan Ellis, a location was selected in the northwest corner on the west side of the Municipal Harbor.

Ellis said John Mykolyk has been selected as the architect for the construction of the light and tower. He added permit applications are being prepared to submit to the various boards and agencies which will be involved.

He said a letter received from the Mississippi State Department of Archives states it has no objection to the site.

Ellis said fund raising for the lighthouse project was held somewhat in abeyance until the project received final approval by Aldermen, but the committee has received a number of volunteer donations, including two amounting to $1,000 each.

"There have been a number of people who have committed substantial contributions once they see the fund-raising effort has materialized in earnest," said Ellis.

Funds already collected amount to a little more than $8,000, which is being held in two separate checking accounts, Ellis said.

The Board of Directors of the Tricentennial Committee has approved converting its current state

Pass Christian plans harbor ceremony

BY ED LEPOMA

Mayor Bill McDonald, Pass Christian aldermen and state officials will gather at the Municipal Harbor at 11 a.m. Tuesday to reinstate the original Pass marker commemorating the origins of the city.

The historic marker was picked up following Hurricane Camille in 1969 and never replaced by the Mississippi Department of Archives.

The marker is one of a series sponsored by the Tricentennial Committee which will be planted around the city during the coming year. Remaining markers to be dedicated include: For Edward Livingston's promotion of Pass Christian and the lighthouses along the coast; the Henderson's Point Marker for the community settled by John Henderson and his descendants; and the Asgard Tract Marker to commemorate the business center of Pass Christian, which was owned by the freed slave, Charles (Charlo) Asgard.

The legend on the official Magnolia marker being restored Tuesday reads, "Pass Christian—the town and Pass were named by Christian L'Adnier, Early trading center and noted ante-bellum resort.

Fire department receives another great donation

Fire Chief Robert Gavagnie received another great gift from local business entrepreneurs Ed Bourgeois and Don Silcio of Total Security.

The local businessmen support children's issues as their company charity and this week purchased Firepup, the mascot of fire departments throughout the country developed by the National Fire Safety Council.

"Firepup immediately became an integral part of our fire prevention education and public relations programs. Kids mobbed him at our recent Public Safety Day.

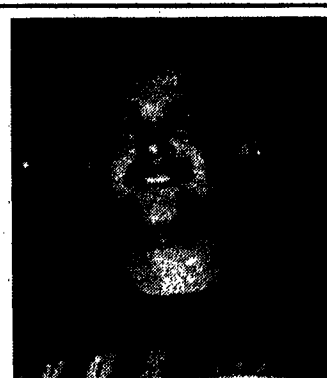

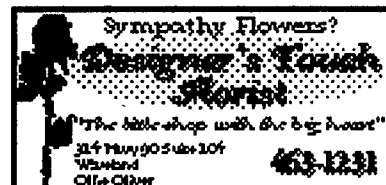

"The entire department is grateful for this generous gift," said the Chief.

Bourgeois and Silcio's company, Total Security, is coast-wide company offering security, fire and other safety systems. They have first hand knowledge of how important fire prevention education and evacuation plans are for home safety.

Not only have the duo donated to the Bay St. Louis Fire Department, they also sponsor a baseball team for kids, assist seniors with installing fire alarms, changing batteries when requested.

"Ed and Don have joined the ranks of Fire Department Angels, James A. "Snuffy" Smith, Bay St. Louis Allstate Insurance agent and Betsy Ashman, Hancock Insurance Agency, who have provided generous donations to assist in taking our prevention education efforts to the highest level," said Mayor Eddie Favre.

Trains were king

For many years the Louisville & Nashville Railroad provided commuter service between Mobile and New Orleans. The railroad employed many local residents in addition carried many from across the coast to jobs in New Orleans. In Hancock County the commuter trains stopped at Bay St. Louis, Nicholson Avenue, Coleman Avenue, Waveland Avenue, Clermont Harbor, Lakeshore, Ansley and Baldwin Lodge, in addition to several stops in the Louisiana marsh, the Gentilly and the L&N Depot at Canal Street and the Mississippi River. In this photo, Arthur Julius (Jules) Bourgeois, left, and wife Edna were riding the L&N commuter between New Orleans and Waveland around 1959 or 1960, according to son Lionel Bourgeois, who took photo. Jules Bourgeois was employed by the railroad. Even though he had one arm, he could knit nets, roll cigarettes, tie his shoes and even open oysters, all very efficiently, his son says. The Echo welcomes photos older than 25 years for publication. They will be returned to their owners.

Ellis said the new organization, which goes into effect January 1, 2000, will provide an ongoing vehicle to continue raising funds for the lighthouse restoration.

The public is invited to become a charter member of the Lighthouse Society, and membership costs $50.

Ellis said checks should be made out to the P.C. Lighthouse Society, P.O. BOX 354, Pass Christian, MS 39571.

Persons who select to contribute more than $100 to the project can benefit by a tax write-off set up by the local Rotary Club. You should make checks available to the Rotary Trust Fund re: Pass Lighthouse, while those contributing $100 or less should make checks payable to the Tricentennial Committee.

Estimates are the lighthouse reconstruction will cost between $125,000 and $175,000.

"CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce "Morning Call" will be held at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, Tuesday, Oct. 19, 8 to 9 a.m.

Special speaker will be Teri Wyly, 1999 chamber board of directors president.

The "Morning Call" gives an opportunity for chamber members and guests to meet, socialize and get to know each other in a different setting than the Business After Hours.

While on the subject of Business After Hours, the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce October Business After Hours will be held on Thursday, Oct. 21, at the Our Lady of the Gulf Community Center, Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis.

Host is the Hancock Medical Center to welcome Dr. Jerry Karabin as he joins the practice of Dr. Keith Goodfellow.

Dr. Karabin is the addition of another obstetrics and gynecologist to Hancock Medical Center's active staff.

As always, there will be refreshments, snacks, etc., for the chamber members and guests.

We hope to see you at both of the chamber activities this week.

Tuesday is another very important day for the qualified electors of the City of Bay St. Louis.

There will be the run-off election for the councilman-at-large seat for Bay St. Louis. The nine candidates have now been reduced to two.

The two remaining candidates, Peggy Dutton and William Taylor, both need your vote and support on Tuesday.

You need to go to the polls and vote for who you think will best serve your interests as Bay St. Louis councilman-at-large.

Call your neighbors and friends to remind them to get out and vote on Tuesday.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The time is now to begin to get ready for next Saturday's St. Ann/St. John parishes Seafood Jamboree.

The benefit will take place from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. at St. Ann's Church pavilion and church grounds, Lower Bay Road at Clermont Harbor for the two Catholic churches which serve the people of the Clermont Harbor and Lakeshore areas.

This is always a fun and entertaining time for those who attend the Seafood Jamboree.

Those 'country folks' sure know how to cook some delicious foods, and the donations are very reasonable.

Seafood plates are for a donation of $5 each and will be served from 11 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. and take-outs will be available.

In addition to seafoods, there will be the usual hamburgers, hot dogs, etc., and yes, some very delicious desserts.

Live entertainment scheduled includes, "Bill Lee" from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. and "Country Crossroads" from 6:30 to 10 p.m.

There will also be a political rally, white elephant booth, raffles, and drawings.

We hope to see you next Saturday at the Seafood Festival at St. Ann's.

Term limits could cripple Mississippi

When Mississippians start talking about term limits there are a few facts which need to be taken into consideration.

First the political careers and benefits Mississippians have and continue to receive from Congressman William (Bill) Colmer, United States Senator James Eastland, United States Senator John C. Stennis, Congressman James L. Whitten, Congressman G.V. (Sonny) Montgomery, United States Congressman and Senator Trent Lott (now Senate Majority Leader), United States Senator Thad Cochran, and Congressman Gene Taylor.

The above mentioned had a hand in one or more of the following in getting, expanding and even keeping the following facilities:

- The John C. Stennis Space Center.
- The Keesler Air Force Base and its expansions.
- The Naval Air Station at Meridian.
- The Naval Oceanographic Office at Stennis.
- The Naval Construction Battalion at Gulfport.
- The Air National Guard Training Center, Gulfport.
- The Naval Home Port at Pascagoula.
- The Naval Home in Gulfport.
- Veterans Facilities in Gulfport and Biloxi.
- The numerous contracts at Ingalls, Trinity and other shipbuilding facilities along the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

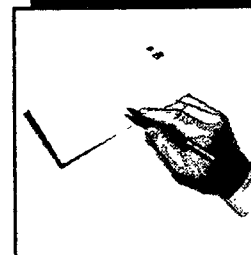

And this list goes on and on.

Had there been term limitations, Mississippi probably would have never received any of the above mentioned.

And there are others, too, who have held office for many years in our state and local political offices who have made big differences.

Don't forget about how unproductive a "lame duck" person can be when they know they have only a few years or months to go in a position.

Remember this when you go to vote on Tuesday November 2, 1999, we already have term limitations, we as voters can vote them in as well as out.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Annual Ship Island Rendezvous destroys natural resources, fisherman's wife claims

To the Editor:
My husband has been a full-time commercial fisherman here on the Gulf Coast for over 25 years. Four years ago he built his own 50-foot steel hull U.S. documented vessel which is the subject of this incident.

In all those years he has never had an accident nor a man aboard his vessel ever injured. He decided he would take his wife, two children, his first mate and his girl friend and another couple to the "5th Annual Ship Island Rendezvous".

Our vessel arrived on Ship Island Saturday morning, July 18, 1998. The vessel set anchor off the channel in 17 feet of water a little further out from where it was roped off for the festivities that were going to take place on Sunday. During the night, the vessel swung around and the anchor must have dug. The vessel drew six foot of water. When we awoke Sunday morning, one side of the vessel had plenty of water and the other side was aground.

Many boats started arriving for the "Rendezvous". My husband decided not to move his vessel out to deeper water because of the danger of all the smaller boats around us.

As the day went on all persons aboard our vessel were totally amazed over the "Rendezvous" as none of us had ever been to anything like it OD the water before. The day was a day to be remembered. That afternoon, some of the vessel was aground, so my husband waited for all the boats to leave before cranking his vessel.

There was propeller wash at the stern of the vessel and smoke from the smoke stack (due to a bad engine).

The vessel was moving. A Park Ranger, Mr. Mark Lewis, over his loud speaker, ordered my husband to cut his engines because the vessel was damaging the bottom. Upon my husband not turning off the engine fast enough, the order was given again.

A minute later the patrol boat was on the stern of our vessel an officer was yelling to my husband that he was under arrest for disobeying his order.

On July 30, 1999 my husband was found guilty in the Biloxi Federal Court on charges of Destroying, Damaging or Disturbing Resources, Disobeying a Lawful Order and Boating Under the Influence and placed on supervised probation.

Two years for the first two charges and one year for the BUI, all to run concurrently. The arrest occurred on July 19, 1998 at the "5th Annual Ship Island Rendezvous" that is held on the north side, west end of Ship Island.

After reading my husband's Probation Order, I felt that I needed to follow up on the charge of Destroying, Damaging or Disturbing Resources (Cite: 36CFR2.1) and state my opinion.

For six years in a row, the National Park Service has benefited off the "Ship Island Rendezvous" that is organized by Mr. Bill Holmes.

The extra proceeds, after expenses of about $18,000 to 20,000 go towards maintaining the island and purchasing new equipment. All the while, natural resources are being destroyed.

Ship Island is a natural resource. The park boundary extends one mile around the island and all waters within that boundary are considered to be a natural resource.

Natural Resources are fundamental for our parks. On July 18 of this year, 9,000 people (most of whom urinated in the water, tossed cigarette butts, and filled cans up with water to make them sink), 5,000 boats (whose anchors and propellers dug in the sand) and two large barges loaded with people, music equipment, etc. (which had to plow its way in the sand and then out of the sand in order to get close to the beach line) attended the 6th annual "Rendezvous".

The impact of this is great. Beer/drink cans and holders floating around are not good. Very few, if any, of the boats had holding tanks for their waste, so human waste is not good.

"Microscopic organisms live 2 inches below the sand," as stated in Federal Court by Jill Kennedy, one of the park rangers on the Island.

Thousand's of people at one time walking and standing on the sea grass beds are not good. The National Park Service's web site asks that you swim or snorkel over the sea grass beds, and not walk through them.

The sea grass beds provide a nursery for much of the commercial seafood and other marine life, and are extremely fragile.

Anchors and propellers digging in the sand and the weight of the barges that plow through the sand are not good.

All of this can cause damage to these valuable natural resources. Perhaps more powerful than forces of nature, human impact can threaten the very existence of this barrier Island.

My request is to put a stop to the "Ship Island Rendezvous" and not let there be a seventh one.

With the new 50-mile radar that the rangers hope to purchase with the extra proceeds this year, I just hope they never have to use it to evacuate that many (mostly drunk) people at one time.

Sincerely,
Gail Mitchell

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reader says trains are noisy and predictable

To the Editor:
I have noticed that lately some members of our community are confused about trains.

I do not mean any disrespect to anyone or their families who have been hurt or killed, but to help stop accidents.

First, trains are very predictable. They can only be found on tracks. These are made of steel. Also, trains are large, make noise, shake the ground, have loud horn and a bright light that can be seen for a long way even in day time.

When you approach a cleared area and see a stop sign and X-shaped sign with words Rail Road Crossing, be careful.

Look around for large steel vehicle with a bright light that shakes the ground and has a noisy horn. The train will always be on tracks.

Give the train the right-of-way. Trains are very heavy, and cannot stop quickly. Never park any part of your vehicle on train tracks, even the part you are not sitting in (example school buses, large trucks.)

If you have a wreck with a train, your loved ones can sue the rail road companies, but this will not bring you or your passengers back to life, only the lawyers will truly benefit.

P.S. Do not buy hot coffee and dump it in your lap.

Landfill -- controversy continues attorney, filed a 45-page Bill of Exception in Circuit Court on behalf of the developers, contending the Board no longer had jurisdiction in the matter because any plans to amend the county's 20 Year Solid Waste Disposal Plan to site a landfill now lies with the Solid Waste Authority.

In his opening statements, Cole was quick to bring up the jurisdictional question. "We submit they (supervisors) do not have the authority to make that decision," said Cole. He said the call for a referendum on the landfill was "flawed, unconstitutional and discriminatory."

"The purpose of the petition was to stop out-of-state garbage," said Cole. "The county is attempting to say, 'We do not want a privately owned landfill here.'"

Cole said several courts have ruled that it would be a violation of International Commerce regulations to prohibit garbage from other states from coming into a landfill. He also contended that the developers were denied due process because they were not informed when supervisors accepted the petition and set an election on the issue.

"The referendum is discriminatory in itself," said Cole.

Local attorney Mike Haas was selected by supervisors to handle the issue before the court.

Haas explained the action by supervisors asks, "That the people be allowed a chance to vote" (on the landfill). He said

Hancock would generate an estimated 30,000 tons of garbage a year. "But this landfill could accommodate up to 500,000 tons."

Haas said garbage could be trucked in from Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and Louisiana. "This would have a major impact on the lives of the people of Hancock County," said Haas.

Haas said any plans to contract with a landfill developer and go forward requires the vote of all six members the Solid Waste Authority. "Then, what's the point of having an election if the Board has the authority over the issue?" Judge Terry asked. "Why do they have to have a referendum?"

The state Attorney General's office dispatched assistant AG Mike Lansford from Jackson to the hearing but, under questioning by Judge Terry, he sidestepped why the AG's office had issued two separate rulings on the landfill referendum. In one opinion, one assistant AG said the Board of Supervisors no longer had jurisdiction over the matter, but in the latest, issued last May, the AG's office said supervisors could override the Solid Waste Authority, and call a vote on the matter if 25 percent of registered voters signed a petition.

Lansford argued before the court the developers had not been denied due process. "No rights have been violated. No one has entered into a contract, and no DEQ (state Department of Environmental Quality) permit has been issued."

The court hearing drew a virtual "Who's Who" list of local politicians. Attending were: State Sen. Scottie Cuevas, District 3 Supervisor Lisa Coward and Bay Council person Carleen Moran, both of whom serve on the Solid Waste Authority.

Waveland Mayor Tommy Longo, Bay Mayor Eddie Favre and former mayor John Mason, who also serve on the Authority, were also present. Board of Supervisors attorney Gerald Gex was present, along with the Authority's attorney, Lucien Gex.

Others in the audience included Jay Cuevas, the Democratic nominee for District 5 Supervisor. Opponents to the landfill, Mary Cinders of Waveland, Chickie Knox and Wootsie Tate of Picayune, also attended.

Youth -- new facility costly allow the less-serious young offenders to return to area schools, and incarcerate them over weekends, "when they do most of their mischief."

Hurt had investigated the possibility of signing a contract with Forrest County officials in Hattiesburg, who have offered to reserve one bed in their juvenile facility for Hancock County juveniles. That would cost $21,900 a year, but others sent there would be charged an additional $65 a day, he said.

Hurt said he was now leaning toward keeping the present arrangement with Forrest County for the current charge of $85 a day per juvenile.

For the first time, Hurt revealed he wasn't exactly thrilled with plans to attach a juvenile detention facility to the rear of the historic downtown courthouse, although he was on the committee that originally endorsed the plan.

As designed, he said the plan would provide 14 cells, which could double-bunk juveniles and hold up to 28, but he said the plan is flawed because future expansion would be limited, if not impossible, because of the height restrictions placed on historical structures.

District 4 Supervisor Seymour said maybe the county should abandon the downtown facility, and look more seriously at locating the detention center somewhere else in the county. He suggested somewhere on state Hwy. 603 south of I-10.

That suggestion didn't sit too well with Pullman, who predicted, "People are going to protest, no matter where you put it." He suggested waiting to do anything until after the November 2 election.

Before doing anything, Pullman said, "We need to figure out what we need. We need to come up with some hard numbers."

Hurt also briefed the panel on the modular units which Hattiesburg has assembled for housing its juveniles, and he said he didn't think assembling them here would cost very much.

Seymour made the suggestion for those who were interested to travel to Hattiesburg this Thursday to check out the facility.

At the outset of the meeting, Hurt announced that outgoing Sheriff Ronnie Peterson has offered to resign from the Juvenile Detention Committee, since he has less than three months to go in office. Ray Murphy, the Republican nominee for Sheriff in the upcoming Nov. 2 election, attended the meeting and took notes, but he did not comment publicly.

Run-off

lots cast. Without a 50 percent tally, however, Dutton was put in a runoff with the second spot winner, Taylor.

There was some confusion last Tuesday among voters over where to vote - and officials say the election even drew a couple of voters who live outside the city limits.

City officials say of 72 affidavit ballots cast, about 23 were declared invalid because the voters hadn't cast ballots in the correct ward. Some voters apparently thought since the election was a citywide process, any city resident could vote at any polling spot. While that used to be the case, the law has changed.

"You must vote where you live," said Deputy Municipal Clerk Charlene Rutledge. Some voters incorrectly cast ballots in wards where they no longer reside.

Rutledge stressed that a voter who has moved from the ward where he once registered to vote should go to vote in the ward of current residence. Otherwise, your vote will be thrown out.

Individual questions over the proper voting spot should be directed to City Hall.

The four voting precincts include:

—Ward (District) 1: Bay St. High School, 750 Blue Meadow Road;

—Ward (District) 2: Hancock County Library, 312 Highway 90;

—Ward (District) 3: Bay St. Louis Fire Department, 310 Old Spanish Trail; —Ward (District) 4: Christ Episcopal Church (Virginia Hall), 912 South Beach Boulevard.

Returns will be counted after the polls close at City Hall Annex on Court Street.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to my family, friends and supporters who have given their time and support during this election term.

I ask for your continued support in the upcoming General Election on November 2nd

SBA announces $1 million to boost small businesses

WASHINGTON - The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) announced that 20 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico have qualified to receive grants from a $1 million pool created to help boost the number of small businesses involved with federal research and development (R&D) projects.

The funding is targeted to areas where small business participation in federal R&D is low.

The grants, which will be used for outreach and training, will help small businesses located in these areas understand the opportunities offered through two federal technology-based initiatives, the Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) and the Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) programs.

"Geography should not be a barrier to the opportunities offered to small businesses interested in federal research and development," said SBA Administrator Aida Alvarez.

"These SBA grants will help spread the word to business owners everywhere that when it comes to participation in federal R&D through this agency's SBIR and STTR programs - the doors are open."

The SBIR and STTR programs currently account for more than $1 billion in federal R&D funding. The SBIR program is offered only to small businesses, while the STTR program promotes collaboration between small businesses and non-profit research institutions.

Studies have shown that these programs often account for some of the highest quality government research available.

In addition, the general public often receives a benefit as projects developed in connection with these programs find their way to the commercial marketplace.

The 22 locations that qualified did so because the value of SBIR and STTR contracts awarded in each area during fiscal year 1995 was relatively low - less than $5 million.

Hawks fall as Panthers prowl

BY DWAYNE BREMER

Missed opportunities and a crucial fourth-quarter turnover did the Hancock Hawks in Friday night, as the Petal Panthers beat the Hawks 21-14 in an exciting, hard fought game.

The Panthers scored two touchdowns on their first four offensive plays, and held on the rest of the way. The Panthers were led by the running of Nick McGill, who torched the Hawk defense for 179 yards on 15 carries.

"These guys just keep finding a way to beat us, I give Petal all the credit for this game," said Hawk head coach Rocky Gaudin.

The Hawks took the opening kick out to the 39, after a 20-yard return by Gary Catalano. Trellony Mayfield picked up a short gain on first down, and on second down Brandon Necaise connected with Chris Goff on a screen pass that netted 21 yards. Two plays later, Necaise and Goff hooked up again, this time for 20 yards, and the Hawks had a first down at the Panther 18. The Hawk offense would sputter, and turn the ball over on downs at the 22.

The Panthers did not waste much time getting on the board, as McGill took a sweep around the right side and jetted down the sideline 78 yards for a touchdown. The Panthers added the point-after, and with 8:42 remaining in the first quarter, the Panthers led 7-0.

The Hawks would get good field position to start their next drive, as Goff returned the kickoff 25 yards to the 41. Goff would pick up five yards, then explode for 26 yards giving the Hawks a first down at the 28. The Hawks would pick up another first down as Mayfield picked up five yards on a fourth-and-three. The Hawks would not take advantage, however, as they turned the ball over on downs at the 14.

The Panthers went back to work quickly, as fullback Roy McNair rumbled for 28 yards and a first down to the 42. McGill picked up four yards, then Panther quarterback Garrett Tapper went deep, and connected with Garrett Drake for a 54 yard touchdown. The point after was good, and with 2:51 remaining in the first the Panthers had a 14-0 lead.

The Hawks would regain their form on their next drive. Starting at the 39, Goff ran for six and three. Mayfield then plowed for 16 yards and a first down at the 35. Necaise connected with Doyle Moran for seven yards, and then Necaise hooked up with tightend Cedrick Acker for 26 yards, giving the Hawks a first down at the two. Mayfield pounded the touchdown in from there, and the Hawks were on the board. Les Sackett added the point after and the Hawks had cut the lead in half 14-7, with 10:04 remaining in the half.

The Hawk defense would wake up, from their first quarter slump and stop the Panthers on their next drive. Gary Catalano had a big sack of Tapper, and Chris Goff snuffed out a reverse to force a punt for the Panthers.

The Hawks would take over at their own 35 with 3:35 left in the half. Goff picked up four yards, and Necaise hit Moran for 11 yards to the 50. Mayfield picked up four yards, and Goff ran for eight giving the Hawks a first down at the 35. The Hawks would not get any closer, as the time ran out on the first half.

The Hawks had the ball inside the Panther 35 four times in the first half, and only had seven points to show.

The Hawk defense stopped the Panthers on the opening drive of the second half, and the Hawks took over at their own 12 after a punt.

Mayfield ran for nine, and Goff picked up a first down with a five yard run. Necaise then hit Chris Payne for 28 yards on a post pattern to give the Hawks a first down at the Panther 45. Goff then ran for five yards, and Mayfield picked up two. On third down Mayfield was stopped for no gain, and on fourth down Necaise was sacked by McNair, the Panthers took over at the 45.

The teams would trade possessions, but a good punt by Hawk punter E.J. Schultz would pin the Panthers inside game away. McGill ran for 19 yards to the 40, and two more runs by McGill took time off clock. The Hawk defense would hold the Panthers, and force a punt with 2:15 remaining.

On the punt, the snap was high forcing the Panther punter to attempt to run. David Seal tackled the punter at the 26, and the Hawks took over more consistant," Gaudin said.

The Hawks fall to 5-3 on the year, and 3-1 in district 7-4A. The Hawks will face off against the powerfull Picayune Maroon Tide next week in Picayune. The Hawks are now in a tie for second place in the district, with the Columbia Wilcats.

their own 20.

The Hawk defense rose up and stopped the Panthers. Jerry Carco deflected a long pass from Tapper on third-and-14, and the Panthers were forced to punt, as the third quarter ended.

The Panthers did not get off a good punt, and Chris Goff took in the punt at the Panther 38. Goff tried to run before he had control of the ball, and fumble the ball. The Panthers pounced on the ball at the 37.

The Panthers then went on a 13 play drive, led by McNair and McGill. The drive took up almost six minutes off the clock, and ended as McGill took a sweep six yards for a touchdown. The Panthers added the point after, and with only 5:53 remaining the Panthers led 21-7.

The Hawk offense could not generate anything, and the Hawks punted to the Panthers.

Taking over at their own 21, the Panthers looked to put the there.

The Hawks would take advantage, as Necaise hit Payne for 14 yards to the 12. Mayfield then took a draw play 10 yards to the two. Mayfield then took it in for a touchdown. Sackett added the point after, and with just 1:19 seconds left to play the score was 21-14.

The Hawks attempted an on-sides-kick. On the kick the ball appeared to go off the leg of a Panther, and the Hawks recovered at the 40. The first official awarded the ball to the Hawks, but a second official came in and overruled the first one, saying that the ball did not travel ten yards, and that the ball hit a Hawk player before it hit the Panther player. The Panthers were awarded the ball at the 40.

The Panthers would run out the clock, and win the game.

Rocks survive 27-21 scare for Homecoming win over Oak Grove; Welder crowned queen

The Saint Stanislaus College Rock-a-chaw's #68 Fisher Maddox runs the ball during the school's Homecoming match against Oak Grove Friday night as the Warrior's #17 Briton Eyles pursues.

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus made enough big plays on offense and defense to survive a 27-21 homecoming scare by the Oak Grove Warriors 'between the walls' on Friday night.

The win improved the Rocks record to 6-2 overall and 2-2 in the division. Oak Grove fell to 2-6 and 0-4.

If bad luck could happen to both teams, then it happened tonight at Brother Philip Stadium.

It was not a pretty game; however, the Rocks were able to post 434 yards of total offense. The other side of the coin was the fact that the Rocks were penalized nine times for 115 yards.

Most penalties came at crucial points in the game or after huge gains by the Rocks. For the second consecutive week, the Rocks were able to hold off an opponent in the waning moments of the game despite inconsistent play on both sides of the ball.

SSC head coach Dave Kenson elaborated, "We did a lot of good things tonight, but we also committed a lot of bad things. Our play was very inconsistent, especially from people that we rely on. We made some very costly mistakes tonight, most notably the holding penalties."

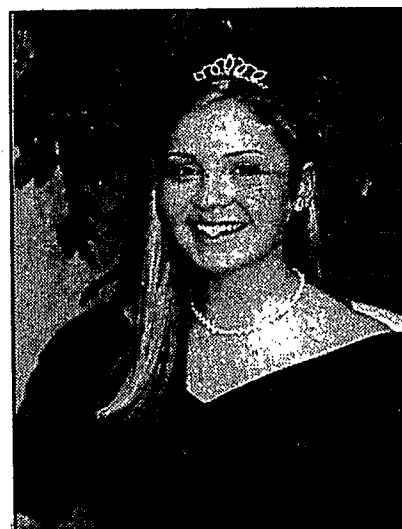

"We have to travel to Petal next week. They are a very tough team to begin with, but we are playing in their stadium. We will have to play much, much better on offense and defense to have a chance. Oak Grove is a very much improved team from last year. Give them credit, they came out and brought it to us."

The Rocks got out to a rocky start on their opening possession. Jason Santiago and the Rocks came out passing on the opening play. He hit Stephen Peterman for a seven-yard gain, then found Grady Willis for a 39-yard gain. But, SSC suffered two harsh penalties and an interception to end the drive. The Rocks were able to stop the Warriors and force them to punt. But, the bad luck continued for SSC when the Rocks fumbled the punt.

The Warriors were sitting pretty at the Rock 17 yardline. However, the bad luck bug caught the Warriors, too. On the next play, Cameron Byrne forced a fumble and B.J. Peralta recovered the loose ball for SSC. And, the Rocks took back over at their own 11 yardline.

Kris Cannon ripped off runs of 18 and 26 yards before Santiago tried his luck in the air again. The Rock quarterback found Stephen Peterman for a 10-yard gain. But, the Rocks shot themselves in the foot with another costly penalty.

Raemona Wood Welder

ty.

The Rock defense stepped it up and, behind the play of Peralta and freshman Louis West, made some big plays and stopped the Warriors dead in their tracks and forced them to punt the ball away.

On the Rocks next possession, the bad luck turned good. Cannon exploded for a 42-yard gain that brought the Rocks down to the Warrior 31 yardline. Two plays later, Santiago connected with Grady Willis on a 28-yard touchdown. Charles Raymond nailed the PAT. With :36 left in the first quarter, the Rocks were up 7-0.

The Warriors were flat and went three and out on their next series.

It took just three plays for the Rocks to find the endzone again. Santiago opened the drive with a 12-yard pass to Brandon Rayborn. Cannon followed that up with a minimal gain. Next, Santiago found Aaron Dunklin for a 57-yard touchdown pass with 10:06 left to play in the first half. Raymond converted on the PAT and the score was 14-0.

It looked as though the Rocks were about to put away the Warriors for the night. The SSC defense held tough and forced the Warriors to punt. But, the SSC offense went cold and ended up having to punt. The Rocks punt was blocked at the ten yardline and recovered in the endzone by Oak Grove's Jonathan Duhon for a touchdown. Max Bonner made good on the kick and the score was 14-7 with 7:22 left to play in the half.

On the Rocks ensuing possession, Santiago was intercepted by Clai Meador who brought the ball back to the Rock 21 yardline. Three plays later, the Warriors tied the game at 14-14 when Jerry Washington scored from 15 yards out. Bonner made good on the kick with 5:53 left in the half.

Both teams swapped possessions before SSC got back on the board.

SSC got the ball back with 1:13 left to play in the half. Cannon pushed his way 16 yards for a first down. Next, Santiago scrambled looking for an open receiver but was sacked for a 13-yard loss back at the Oak Grove 30-yardline. But, two plays later Santiago hooked up with Dunklin for his second touchdown of the night on a 30-yard pass reception with just :20 left in the half. Raymond converted on the kick and the score was 21-14 at the intermission.

During halftime, SSC celebrated their homecoming festivities with five lovely maids being presented to the crowd. Raemona Wood Welder of Our Lady Academy was crowned the 1999 Homecoming Queen for SSC. She was escorted by her step-father, Mr. Patrick Searcy. Welder, a senior at OLA, is involved in numerous school clubs and societies. In addition to her school activities, Welder has done volunteer work for the American Heart Association, American Cancer Society, and the Special Olympics. The maids for the 1999 SSC Homecoming Court are Miss Colleen May, Miss Megan Pigott, Miss Rachel Taylor, and Miss Jessica Velazquez.

The Rocks held the Warriors in check on their opening possession of the second half behind the defensive play of Peralta and Peterman. Both players put pressure on Oak Grove quarterback Brian Page on a third down and nine situation and helped force an incomplete pass.

The Rocks mounted a 10-play drive that stalled at the Warrior 42 yardline. A fake punt by the Rocks gave the Warriors great field position on their next possession. Oak Grove didn't waste any time taking advantage of the Rocks generosity. Five plays later, Washington scored for the second time in the game. He scored from nine yards out with 2:38 left in the third quarter. Bonner connected on the PAT and the score was tied at 21-21.

On the ensuing possession, the Rocks got a 15-yard run from Cannon for a first down and were blessed with a roughing the punter call to move the chains again.

Cannon fired off another 15-yard run down to the Warrior 16 yardline.

Santiago then connected with Peterman for a what appeared to be a 16-yard touchdown pass; however, the play was called back on a Rock holding penalty.

Cannon then took over the drive for the Rocks. He reeled off a run of 17 yards, caught a 20-yard pass from Santiago, and then scored from four yards out with 10:48 left to play in the game. But, the bad luck bug just wouldn't leave the Rocks tonight. Raymond missed wide right on the PAT attempt leaving the score at 27-21 and an opportunity for Oak Grove to be Homecoming spoilers.

Oak Grove took their ensuing possession and pushed the ball to the Rock 36 yardline before bad luck struck the Warriors. Page fumbled the shotgun snap from the center and Peralta wasted no time getting on him like "white on rice."

Peralta sacked Page for a 19-yard loss and forced the Warriors to punt away. However, the Rocks stumbled on offense and punted right back.

Once again, the Warriors had their opportunity to ruin the night. Oak Grove moved the ball to the Rock 38 yardline. However, the Warriors were in a fourth down and three situation. Washington took the handoff up the middle but met a wall in Matt Frost, Hunter Dawkins, and Peterman who stopped him for just a one-yard gain.

The Warriors turned the ball over to SSC with :42 seconds left to play.

The Rocks lined up in the victory formation and knelt the ball to run the clock down and held on to win 27-21.

Although Murphy's Law seem to invoke itself on both teams tonight, some Rocks had some good, but quiet performances. Santiago completed 12 out of 24 passes for 220 yards and three scores. He also threw two interceptions. Cannon carried the ball 27 times for a quiet 222 yards. Dunklin had two catches for 87 yards and two scores.

Defensively, the Rocks held the Warriors to 23 yards passing on the night.

Peterman had 14 tackles and two sacks, while Peralta tallied 10 tackles, one sack, and fumble recovery.

The Rocks will travel to Hattiesburg to take on the Petal Panthers in a crucial Division 7 Class 4A battle.

Just two weeks ago, Petal Panthers nailed a shut-out scoring 41 unanswered points against the Bay High Tigers.

So, the Rocks will have their hands full on both sides of the ball.

Kickoff is slated for 7:30pm. See you at the game!

Maroon Tide stuns Bay High Tigers

The Bay High Tigers' #5 Tony Davis helps stop a run by Picayune's Jeremy Guldrey Friday night, but the Tigers still fell 52-6 to the Maroon Tide.

BY MAURICE SINGLETON

The Picayune Maroon Tide continued their run for a State 4A Championship with a 52-6 bashing of the banged up Bay High Tigers in Bay St. Louis on Friday night.

The Maroon Tide was much bigger, faster and had many more talented players than the Tigers who were hobbled by injuries to four starters. The Tigers played young and inexperienced players to fill the voids left by starters Willie Whavers, Jason McKay, Gary Vincent and Terrace Thomas who missed the game because of various injuries.

"They were light years ahead of us in depth and talent," said Tigers' Coach David Baughman. "They were bigger, faster and stronger than us everywhere. We played hard for four quarters. They are just that much better than we are. It's going to take a mean bunch to stop them."

Offensively, the Tigers put together two sustained drives on the night, one resulting in their only score. The drive followed Jake Pearce's recovery of a Maroon Tide fumble at the Bay High 13-yardline.

A pass interference call against the Maroon Tide moved the ball to the Tigers 24-yardline. Aaron Frommeyer carried for five yards. Then Adam Barrett advanced the ball 14 yards on a quarterback keeper.

Ronald Brown ran right and then broke a tackle as he changed directions and scattered twenty-one yards for a first down. On third down, Brown capped the drive with a thirty-six yard dash through the line of scrimmage and past Maroon Tide defenders for the score.

The Tigers' lone score came with 1:16 remaining in the third quarter.

Ty Barrett led Tigers' rushers with 81 yards on thirteen carries, followed by Frommeyer with 67 yards on fifteen carries and Brown added 63 yards on seven carries.

Ty Barrett also completed three passes for 36 yards; and Adam Barrett completed a single pass for eight yards.

The Maroon Tide scored twice in each quarter, two touchdowns in the first, third and fourth quarters and a touchdown and a field goal in the second quarter.

Their first score of the night culminated their first possession. Josh Carter carried twenty yards for the score at the 10:04 mark in the first quarter.

Carter also scored the Maroon Tide's second touchdown of the first quarter on a 45-yard run with 4:30 remaining in the quarter.

Carter scored again at the 7:27 mark in the second quarter on a 4-yard run.

As the second quarter came to a close, Bay High mounted a huge defensive stance, stopping the visitors from scoring with a first-and-goal situation at the Tiger's 3-yardline. Brown and Tony Davis combined on a tackle to stop Drew Nushler who fumbled and recovered at the 10-yardline.

With one tick remaining in the half, Trey Lunsford kicked a field goal to give the visitors a 24-0 halftime lead.

Carter scored his fourth touchdown on the night on a 3-yard run at the 9:19 mark of the third period to give the visitors a 31-0 lead. The score capped a 28-yard drive after the Tigers turned the ball over on downs.

Clayton Bales scored for the Maroon Tide on a twenty-five yard run with 6:01 remaining in the third period. The Maroon Tide led 38-0 following Lunsford's fifth successful PAT kick.

Nushler carried from two yards out for the Maroon Tide's first fourth quarter score at the 9:08 mark of the period. Lunsford's successful PAT kick increased the lead to 45-6.

The Maroon Tide's defense got in on the visitors' scoring action as Ian Oliver recovered a Ty Barrett fumble at midfield and ran 50 yards for the score with just over five minutes remaining in the game. Lunsford's seventh consecutive PAT kick closed out the scoring at 52-6.

"We did a pretty good job of slowing them down a little in the first half," said Coach Baughman. "They were just that much better than us."

"Our younger kids got some game experience that is going to help us down the line."

The Tigers' record stands at 4-4 (1-3 in the district) as they host Columbia on Thursday night at J.D. McCullough Stadium.

The game was moved to Thursday to accommodate a Columbia High School scheduling conflict.

Bay High Tiger Pride Marching Band 'All Superior' in Gold Medal Class Fest

The Bay High School Tiger Pride Marching Band recently competed in the premier of The Gold Medal Class Marching Festival & Competition at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College in Wiggins.

The Tiger Pride was rated in the categories of "Drum Major", "Guard", "Percussion" and "Band" and received the highest possible rating, Superior, in each category.

Catchie Crider, Bay High Band director, stated, "A marching competition rates students from every possible angle. Judges look at the band's musical performance, marching performance, and general effect in music and marching."

"Plus you have judges who are only watching the drum major, the guard and the percussion line. It has been many years since the Tiger Pride earned "All Superior" ratings in a marching contest and I am so incredibly proud of their achieving such a high honor."

Senior Brandi Travis, Drum Major, states, "You march out on the field and do the best you can do... and then you wait for all the other bands to perform before you hear your scores!"

"This booming voice announced our scores, 'Drum major - I; Guard - I; Percussion - I; Band - I'."

The band works so hard all year long and hearing those ratings makes it all worthwhile."

Almost 20 high school marching bands from Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi spent the day in competition. An impressive panel of judges rated the bands including:

Chad Johnson who was a member of the 1987 & 1988 Spirit of Atlanta Drum & Bugle Corps Colorguard, which was named World Champion Colorguard at the 1987 Drum Corps International Championships in Madison, Wisconsin;

Marty Hurley who under his tenure as percussion instructor and arranger with the Phantom Regiment (Rockford, Illinois), the corps placed in the top 10 nationally for 14 years at D.C.I. finals competition in Denver, Philadelphia, Birmingham, Montreal, Miami, Madison, Kansas City, Buffalo and Dallas;

Thomas V. Fraschillo, professor of music and director of bands at The University of Southern Mississippi. Dr. Fraschillo serves as the president of The National Band Association, the world's largest organization for band directors;

Badrae Hannah taught in Mississippi schools for 35 years. His teaching career includes North-Gulfport High School, d'Iberville High School, Oxford High School and Biloxi High School;

Randy Davis is the fine arts supervisor for the Mobile County Public School System. Neal Brown is a former director of the Ole Miss Rebelettes and the Mississippi All-Stars Baton Company; and David Allen who currently serves as assistant director of bands at Ocean Springs High School, where he serves as M&M instructor of the all-superior, 230-plus-member marching band, oversees the guard, directs the pep bands, and instructs the drum majors.

Members of the Tiger Pride Band participating in the Gold Medal Classic included: Bliss Acker, B.J. Anderson, Crystal Anderson, Tara Atwell, Andrew Baldree, Dusty Bankston, Coty Bargar;

Stephanie Bartet, Joanna Bilbo, Kevin Bosch, John Boswell, Helena Boudreaux, Robin Bourn, Jennifer Brack, Michele Brack, Timothy Bragg, Isaac Breland, Danielle Burge, Amber Burgess, Ashley Burgess, Clay Cheney, Rebecca Cox, Sherry Cuave;

Josh Dastugue, Matt Delpit, Natalie Fields, Jon Fleming, Kerri Flood, Brian Forrester, Alicia Fulton, Angeia Gex, Chris Gilmore;

Joseph Graves, Kurt Graves, Miguel Graves, Eric Gray, Channing Hardin, Jamie Hart, Phalba Holmes, Georgia Hurt, Laura Hurt, Steven Johnson, Randi Labbe, Alicia Lang, Ellyn Minas, Geneva Mitchell, Drew Monks;

Scarlet Morlier, Lacey Morlier, Halcyon Morris,

Lindsey Necaize, Steven Ortiz, Jenny Palode, Kenny Pollard, Josh Poyadou, Laura Reis, Amy Robertson, Jennifer Scafidi, Sean Sharp, Paul Smith, Cody Smith, Crystal Steiffel, Jamie Strickland, Tripp Thornton, Sky Tomson, Brandi Travis, and Adam Viescas.

Runners for the band include Joseph Bell, Marc Johnson, Nicole Clark, Elizabeth Mueller, and Alison Schultz. The Tiger Pride Band is under the direction of Catchie Crider and assistant Kelly Orr.

Scott Thompson, a.k.a. Carrot Top, is more than familiar with all of the typical red-head jokes. After all, growing up with curly fire-red hair made him a target for the jokes and nicknames.

Choosing the name Carrot Top was not only fitting, but it was also more appealing than Scott Thompson and in his words, "was one of the nicer (nicknames) I could use."

The name has since caught on along with Carrot Top's comedy act, which features a prop-driven arsenal of gags.

His life in comedy started back in his college days. During an amateur comedy contest, he took the stage and was an instant hit. Previously confused over career choices, that night helped him realize comedy was his calling.

Carrot Top has since become a noteworthy comedian including being named the National Association of Campus

Yawn wins annual Coast chefs event

Imperial Palace's Crown Room Chef De Cuisine Clifford Yawn won the gold medal at the 18th annual Chefs of the Coast Sept. 26.

The former frequent award-winning Commander's Palace Executive Souse Chef prepared confit of maple leaf duck hash cake, lemon gras and star anis salmon graxlax roulade, Mississippi quail and black perigold truffle galatine and sweet roasted pepper and seafood terrine to garner the top prize from among more than 50 participating Coast restaurants.

About 1,500 persons attended the event and sampled the array of entries.

Yawn opened in July 1999 the new gourmet restaurant and lounge, the Crown Room and Mr. E's, atop the Imperial Palace, located on Biloxi's back Bay.

He was at Commander's Palace the seven years prior and was instrumental in that famous New Orleans restaurant landmark being awarded the "Most Outstanding Restaurant" in the nation and the "Top Service Award" by the James Beard Foundation.

Yawn brings this world-class quality of food and service and five-star standard in fine dining to the already breath-taking ambiance of the new Crown Room.

The Imperial Palace is a 32-story hotel and casino. The Crown Room and Mr. E's are situated at the pinnacle of the hotel tower and dramatically capture the extraordinary views of the Bay and Coast as customers dine in an environment that can only be described as exquisite.

Far Eastern elegance is enhanced by rich, dark woods, lush carpet and wall coverings, all recreating a palatial oriental motif. An overall atmosphere of intimacy and attention to every dining detail is afforded Tuesday Saturday in this 120-seat jewel.

When Harrah's New Orleans celebrates the grand opening of its casino Oct. 28-30, it will also celebrate the city's rich musical heritage.

All concerts will take place in Spanish Plaza, an outdoor 70,000-square-foot area of the Riverwalk Marketplace, across the street from Harrah's New Orleans.

The first to take the stage will be Frogman Henry Thursday, Oct. 28 at 7 p.m. He will be followed by Deacon John at 8 p.m. and Fats Domino at 9 p.m.

Leading off on Friday, Oct.

Then, there's the food! Clifford Yawn has been renowned more than a decade for impeccable, delicious items, now only in the Crown Room at the Imperial Palace.

He was twice nominated for best service and best chef by the James Beard Foundation, as well as receiving the top restaurant distinction from Food and Wine Magazine, plus the Zagat.

He is specially trained in wines and meats and has cooked and presented dinner for President and Mrs. George Bush, among numerous other luminaries, including cooking live in New York on the prestigious Food Network Channel.

Several of Yawn's first-place-winning creations are regularly featured on the Crown Room's unique menu, which also includes such signature items as Grade "A" Hudson-Valley foie gras terrine, cracked black pepper and honey crusted sirloin carpaccio and grilled venison chops.

The gold-medal roasted maple leaf duck is featured in a gumbo with wild mushrooms and finished with Andouille sausage and fresh herbs.

Entrees range from fresh fish to the finest steaks and lamb, along with the stuffed Mississippi quail. Creme brulee, dark and light chocolate fudge Napoleon, cheese cake, lemon flan and banana in a tower are current dessert irresistible.

Yawn is unmatched in cooking competitions, topping 135 restaurants for Southwest Regional honors from the Cervena Venison Plazas Foundation. He has been a guest on "Masters of Food and Wine" in Carmel, Calif., and received a silver medal at the First Annual Louisiana Classics Food Competition.

His career spans training and employment not only in New Orleans, but in Scottsdale, Ariz., and in several cities in Germany.

Capo attends physical therapists course

Matthew Capo, a physical therapist and clinic director of Associated Rehabilitation Services (ARS) in Bay St. Louis, recently attended "Manual and Exercise Therapy for Patients with Lower Cervical Pain and Dysfunction", an advanced course for physical therapists.

Areas emphasized were patients with headache, pain, decreased motion and strength in the lower cervical region.

This was the second in a series of courses being conducted by Dr. Bjorn Svendsen, an internationally prominent figure in physical therapy.

Dr. Svendsen has lectured to the World Conference, American National Conference and various state level meetings of physical therapy.

He is currently the director of the Great Lakes Institute of Physical Therapy and conducts a residency program in Orthopedic Manual Physical Therapy at Memorial Hospital in South Bend, Indiana.

Capo has had a research project accepted for poster presentation at the World Conference of Physical Therapy; been involved as a player and therapist for the Battleship Rugby Club of Mobile and been selected as a physical therapist for the inter-territorial championships of USA rugby.

He is a member of the American Physical Therapy Association and the American Association of Orthopedic Manual Physical Therapists.

Workshop offered

The Mississippi Small Business Assistance Program and Gulf Coast Business Technology Center are sponsoring an environmental workshop Oct. 21, 8-11:30 a.m. at 1636 Popp's Ferry Road, Biloxi.

Guest Speakers will be Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality Staff.

For information, call 228-392-9747.

Business conference planned in Biloxi

Mississippi small business owners are encouraged to circle Nov. 17-18 on their calendars. That's when federal and state agencies as well as private prime contractors will meet for the Mississippi Business/Procurement Opportunities Conference 2000 in Biloxi.

Described as "A New Millennium of Business/Procurement Opportunities," this two-day conference and trade fair held in the Mississippi Coast Coliseum Convention Center is hosted by the Mississippi Procurement Technical Assistance Center Network.

The event is co-sponsored by the Mississippi Federal Congressional Delegation, the U.S. Small Business Administration, NASA Stennis Space Center, Keesler Air Force Base, Naval Construction Battalion Center Gulfport, Mississippi Small Business Development Center Network, Electronic Commerce Resource Center, New Orleans, Coast Business Technology, Mississippi Power Company and the Mississippi Department of Economic and Community Development.

"The conference is designed to promote partnership between federal, state and local government buying offices with private businesses, particularly small, disadvantaged and women-owned businesses," said Richard Speights, executive director of the Mississippi Contract Procurement Center.

Attendees will receive up-to-date information on many of the latest federal acquisition reform initiatives and will be provided an opportunity to network with more than 180 government agencies and industry leaders from throughout the United States.

Buying activities representing the federal, state and local governments plus large prime contractors seeking subcontractors will be available for individual counseling.

On Nov. 17, Captain Mike

Tax seminars offered by MSU

To help professional tax preparers get the latest information on new government regulations affecting their clients, Mississippi State University again is sponsoring a series of seminars around the state in late November and early December.

The one-day seminars begin at 8:30 a.m. and conclude at 4:15 p.m. A $75 registration fee covers materials, instruction, certificate of completion, and refreshments. Dates, locations and registration deadlines include:

Nov. 23, Gulfport, Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College/Jefferson Davis Campus, Nov. 3;

For complete information, telephone Jeri Mangum at (662) 325-1894.

Jaggard, Supply Corps, U.S. Navy, Deputy Commander for Contracts for the Naval Sea Systems Command, will open the conference with a keynote address. Seminars, which are broken into three tracks, will continue throughout the day. Topics and speakers include:

- "Doing Business with the Department of Defense, U.S. State Department; Department of Veterans Affairs; State of Mississippi, etc.

- "Procurement Opportunities for Women-owned Businesses," lead by Janet Koch, office of the U.S. Secretary of Defense

- "Strategies for Locating Subcontracting Opportunities with Prime Contractors," led by Wayne Wright of Lockheed Martin Manned Space Systems

- "Where Are the Workers? Creative Ideas for Finding Employees," lead by officials from Keesler Air Force Base Transition Assistance Office, Gulf Coast Business Services, Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College and Mississippi Power Company.

Hancock Holding earnings increase

Hancock Holding Company (Nasdaq/NMS:HBHC) announced increased net earnings, excluding expenses directly associated with the merger and data processing conversion of American Security Bank, of $8.2 million, or $0.75 per share, for the quarter ended September 30, 1999.

Net earnings for the current three-month period increased to $7.8 million, or $0.72 per share, compared to net earnings of $6.8 million, or $0.66 per share, for the quarter ended September 30, 1998.

The Company's net interest margin improved to 4.72% for the nine-month period ended September 30, 1999, compared to 4.64% the same nine-month period in 1998.

Hancock Holding Company President and Chief Executive Officer Leo W. Seal, Jr. stated, "We are pleased with the company's net interest margin improvement during the quarter. Further enhancement of non-interest income was a result of initiatives encompassing trust, investment sales and deposit services. Expenses

On Nov. 18, the Business/Procurement Opportunities Fair will get under way at 8 a.m.

Speights noted that in this networking session, an attendance of 800 to 1,000 is expected to visit the anticipated 150 exhibit booths.

"A business can save over a year in time and effort plus considerable expense to make contact with each of the agencies that will be represented and exhibiting at this fair," said Speights.

The cost for the Mississippi Business/Procurement Opportunities Conference 2000 is $35 for the conference (which includes continental breakfast and lunch) and $15 for the trade fair. The exhibitors registration fees are $25 for government agencies; $125 for contractors.

PRCC program celebrates Dental Hygiene Month

HATTIESBURG - Pearl River Community College's Dental Hygiene program will join other similar organizations across the country to celebrate October as National Dental Hygiene Month.

The program theme, "Real Dental Hygienists," will promote and recognize the dental hygienists for providing quality oral health care and their role as prevention specialists.

"We are proud of our tradition of providing quality service to the public," said Gina Fitzgerald, a member of the PRCC dental hygiene faculty.

"This celebration will help increase the public's awareness of our educational background and clinical abilities as licensed preventive professionals," said Fitzgerald. "We are also stressing the importance of oral health in maintaining and protecting overall health."

Hancock Chamber News

Business After Hours

This month's Business after hours will be hosted by Hancock Medical Center to welcome Dr. Jerry Karabin as he joins the practice of Dr. Keith Goodfellow.

The After Hours will be held at the OLG Community Center in Bay St. Louis on Thursday, October 21 from 5-7p.m.

The event is open to Chamber members and guests. Admission is two business cards.

Beautification Awards

Congratulations to this month's Clean and Beautiful Award recipients, Dunbar Village, Bay St. Louis; Countryside Antiques/Armand's, Waveland; and Coldwell Banker Coast Delta Realty, Hancock County.

The award is given to businesses each month who display community pride by keeping their business clean and beautiful.

Scholarship Fund

Beginning in the year 2000, the Chamber will recognize outstanding student achievement with a new Hancock Chamber Education Fund Scholarship.

The Chamber Education Committee has set up the fund through the Gulf Coast Community Foundation.

Collectively, the Chamber Board of Directors kicked off fund raising efforts by donating $3,000 personally or through their own business.

Ultimately, the Education Committee's goal is to raise $25,000 over the next four years to establish a perpetual trust for educational scholarships in Hancock County.

To make a contribution, or to receive information about how your business can donate, call the Chamber at 467-9048.

Education Survey

The Chamber Education Committee has presented the results of a recent higher education needs assessment survey, conducted by the committee.

The survey identified specific post-secondary needs in Hancock County in relation to community college programs.

The information has been sent to Pearl River Community College and other interested parties for review. A copy of the study is available for review in the Chamber office.

To join the Hancock Chamber or for information on chamber events, call 467-9048.

Fitzgerald said periodontal disease, commonly known as gum disease, has been connected to life-threatening conditions such as heart disease, respiratory infections, and premature and low birth weight babies.

Registered dental hygienist, who practice under the supervision of a dentist, are oral health care providers whose education specifically prepares them to provide preventive oral health care services that are critical to patient's maintaining overall health and wellness.

"Professional oral health care services help people maintain healthy teeth and gums and prevent other health problems caused by neglecting one's oral health," said Fitzgerald.

PRCC's Dental Hygiene program was established in 1992. In 1994, it was accredited by the American Dental Association, and in 1995, voted the best technical program by the Mississippi Association of Vocational Education.

The program received the Public Education Forum Award for Excellence and was recognized by the American Association of Community Colleges as an Exemplary Instructional Program in 1996. PRCC has graduated 66 registered dental hygienist since 1992.

Dr. Stanley L. Hill is the program director and Michele Gilles and Fitzgerald are the instructors.

PRCC operates a clinic which is opened to the public at its Forrest County Center at 5448 Highway 49 South in Hattiesburg. Cost for treatment is $16 for adults and $12 for children under 12 years of age. For an appointment call 554-9109.

Add value to your home with proper landscaping

BY BONNIE COBLENTZ
MSU Ag Communications

Houses that look good from the road carry higher price tags, a fact that turns landscape investments into money in the bank when selling a house.

Dr. David Tatum is the state nursery specialist with the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station and the Mississippi State University Extension Service. He has tips for homeowners looking to increase the value of their home before it's sold.

"Money spent working on the landscape is a good investment and will bring actual returns," Tatum said.

He recommended hiring a professional to help develop a landscape plan and offer advice. This person can be either a landscape architect or a licensed landscape designer.

Professional advice allows homeowners to develop a landscape within their budget that is functional, offers curb appeal and can be added to by future owners.

"A well-landscaped yard can add 5 to 15 percent to the selling value of a house," Tatum said. "It just looks good, and people are willing to pay more for it."

Tatum said realtors in the region are beginning to realize the value of a well-landscaped yard and are touting this as a feature of the house.

An outside room

Areas of the landscape, such as gazebos or privacy areas, can even be seen as exterior rooms, offering more living space for homeowners.

Not only are landscapes visually pleasing, they are expected now more than ever before.

"The average person has more disposable income, and they are able to beautify their surroundings," Tatum said. "We're seeing good economic times, and people are spending on their homes. However, even in economic downturns, people with money spend it on their homes."

Tatum said a landscape is a reflection of the personality of the owners and gives visitors an idea of what to expect inside the house.

Depending on what landscaping is in place when starting, establishing a good landscape can be expensive, but it can be done in stages.

"A homeowner can add to a landscape plan designed by a knowledgeable person," Tatum said. "You start with trees, then plants around the foundation of the house. After that, you can concentrate on gardens, accents and privacy areas."

Gardening on a budget

Gardeners on a budget can buy a few plants at the local nursery and place them according to their own plan. They can add to these later as finances allow.

With patience, even weekend gardeners can have a landscape that is the envy of neighbors and a selling point for the house.

Photo submitted by the Hancock County Historical Society Bay-Waveland Garden Club October Gardens of the Month, commercial, Lil' Ray's Restaurant, 613 Hwy. 90, Waveland.

When starting with a small budget, Tatum had two warnings.

"Cut your space. Don't put out fewer plants in a large area as they will not fill it out and you will have to fight weeds," Tatum said. "Don't buy smaller, less expensive plants and place them close together.

"When they grow, they will be overcrowded."

If homeowners are looking for an inexpensive, quick pick-me-up for the yard, flowerers can often do the trick.

Bright splashes of color add visual appeal, but they usually are temporary. Consider, instead, using more permanent bushes.

Stick to basics, leaving more costly and permanent landscaping to the new owners.

Fond memories of 'The Louisiana Shrimper'

In August, on the eve of the start of the white shrimp season, my wife and I drove our granddaughter, Lorelei, over to Bayou Caddy. Lorelei wanted to see a working shrimp boat up close. She was visiting from Michigan and we had taken her on the Biloxi shrimp boat ride. Although the ride was nice, it still was geared for tourists and Lorelei, fascinated by the whole process, wanted to see the real thing.

When we got to Bayou Caddy, we found a Louisiana boat by the dock that had just been loaded with ice. I got out of the car and walked over to the edge of the dock to ask if it was alright for Lorelei and my wife, Stella, to come and take pictures.

I felt a little foolish. I had been living down the road from Bayou Caddy for twenty something years and had bought who knows how many pounds of shrimp from the shrimpers and here I was asking if we could take pictures.

I was greeted by a man in rubber boots standing by the boat's gunwale drinking a Barq's.

He was in his late twenties, pleasant-looking, heavy-built but short, about five-seven, with big, obviously hard-worked hands. His most striking feature was a moon face that seemed to have a nice smile permanently carved in it.

We exchanged remarks and I conversationally asked him if he was headed out to catch the white shrimp. I was reluctant to come right out and ask him if we could take pictures.

"Yes, sir." He had a soft, slow-spoken, almost monotone, Louisiana drawl.

"I've iced up and I'm going out in a few minutes. Be sitting right outside Bay St. Louis when the season starts tomorrow morning."

I made a couple more remarks, and he politely climbed up on the dock to stand by me.

He seemed proud of his boat and went through a lot of trouble to explain some of the working gear on the large to be too busy to mess with it anyhow."

As I listened to what he was saying, I began to look more closely at the boat. It was painted a bright white and gleamed in the late afternoon light. I was struck right away by the fact that everything was clean and trim with very little loose gear on the deck. Everything had a neat almost formal look to it, as if the boat was getting ready for the blessing of the shrimp fleet.

I looked up at the large nets looming over us, jutting out from their masts on each side of the boat. Their size impressed me and I slowly realized that this was a good-sized boat and he had used the singular in referring to his next day's shrimping.

"Are you going out alone?"

"Yep, I usually go out with my brother, but he got sick with cancer a little while back. He suffered a bit and last week he died. He and I always went out ever since I got the boat seven, eight years ago. Now I guess I'll do it alone."

I didn't know exactly what to say and gave what I hoped were the proper sympathetic remarks. Trying to politely change the subject, I asked if my wife and granddaughter could take some pictures of the boat. He said yes and Stella came up with Lorelei, who began asking a million questions. He answered them all patiently in his slow drawl.

Stella took a few pictures as she listened to the two talk and then stopped. She had also noticed his use of the singular and interrupted to ask him if he was going out alone.

"Yes, ma'am," he said and repeated in his matter-of-fact way the story about his brother. "He were the person who could just about guess where the best place to be to catch the shrimp." He stopped talking for a moment and looked out over the boat.

"I'm going to miss him," he said. "We always worked good together, he and me. He was my best friend. Maybe I'll get a deckhand to help out later. I don't know. If that don't work out, I guess I'll sell."

Afterwards, he stood with Lorelei a little way down the dock and I took their picture with the big boat in the background, Lorelei all alive with a big smile and him standing a few inches taller in his rubber boots and pleasant face with its quiet built-in smile. Then we left.

Looking back as we drove off, I could see he had started his engine and was busy casting off from the dock.

I found a place to park by the channel entrance and the three of us got out. Standing there, we waved and watched as the late sun lit up the bright white boat passing us with its one-man crew and memories of two.

I wish him well.

Library book discussion group to meet

Poetry by Emily Dickinson will be the selection to be discussed at the library book discussion group's next meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 20, at 7 p.m. in the Seal Meeting Room of the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library.

The selection comes from the new volume, Happiness and Discontent, an international collection of literature, philosophy and poetry.

One selection from this book is discussed at each meeting.

Sponsored by the Hancock County Library System, the discussion group began in March, 1990.

Since that time, they have completed 110 readings from great books (Plato, Hobbes, Locke deTocqueville), Mississippi fiction, play readings and 20 philosophical questions. The group meets every other Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Reading selections have been chosen to stimulate lively shared inquiry discussions.

This collection brings together works from around the world that speak to each other on a theme of universal significance.

A copy of Happiness and Discontent is available in the reference collection of the library for those who may wish to read selections in the library.

For information, call David Woodburn at 467-5282.

DOLLS

You will have fun shopping at one of the most unique shops in Old Town Bay St. Louis, Jon Paul's Not Just Dolls, owned and operated by Eleanor Ragsdale and June Darcy.

As the name of the shop implies, dolls are not the only items offered. However, if it is dolls you're looking for you have found them at Jon Paul's. Exquisite, collectible dolls grace the shelves of Jon Paul's from internationally known lines such as, Gotz, Annette Himstedt and more. Jon Paul's also carries wonderful dolls for playtime too. Adorable plush to porcelain, you'll find it at Jon Paul's.

Jon Paul's Not Just Dolls is also the Ty Beanie Baby Official Club Headquarters. The shop also has a selection of the hottest jewelry accessory going—Power Bracelets. Hurry in for these they're very popular and going quickly. Another new item is the Baby G watches. They are virtually indestructible and parents as well as kids love 'em. Be sure to stop in Jon Paul's for the newest in Pokemon Cards too.

Jon Paul's has an array of fine gifts, candles, soaps, unique jewelry and accessories are just some of the items for kids and grown-ups alike.

Library to begin children's story hour

"Millions of Cats" is the theme for the children's story hour at the Bay St. Louis Hancock County Library on Wednesday, Oct. 20, at 10:30 a.m.

Millions of Cats, The Purrless Cat and The So So Cat are books to be read during the program. Susan Daigre, program coordinator, will assist the children making a black cat mobile.

"Halloween" will be the theme for the children's story hour at the Kiln Library and the Pearlinton Public Library Thursday, Oct. 21 at 10:30 a.m.

Rattlebone Rock, Five Little Pumpkins and The Little Old Lady who was not Afraid of Anything are books to be featured at the Kiln Library. Children will make their own Halloween masks.

Berenstain Bears and the Ghost of the Forest and Clifford's Halloween are books to be read during the program at the Pearlinton Public Library.

Children are asked to bring a pumpkin to the program. They will be painting on these pumpkins as their craft.

Weekly story hours are held September through May. Programs last approximately one-half hour, depending upon subject matter and planned activity. The Kiln Library hosts a story hour every other Thursday.

Programs and activities are designed for preschool-age children three to five years old who are not part of a nursery or preschool group.

For individual branch story hour information contact Sandra Ladner, Kiln Library, 255-1724, or Adrienne Bradley, Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library, 467-5282.

Jane Amos knew that she had to lose a lot of weight to find herself again. But more than that, to save her life. Like so many, she tried countless diets and medications. Their failure led to her depression and her fear of heart attack and stroke. Then Jane discovered the "Live Light" Surgical Weight Loss Program at Gulf Coast Medical Center. As part of the Weight Management Center, "Live Light" has helped Jane live a more active life. And if you ask us, it's a lifestyle that fits her quite nicely.

This testimonial reflects the results achieved by this patient. As each case is different and must be independently evaluated and managed, weight loss will vary.

Motorcycle enthusiasts from all across Mississippi and the Southeast will converge at the Old Trace Park in Ridgeland on Sunday, Nov. 7, to enjoy the colors of fall at the March of Dimes Ride on the historic Trace.

Activities get underway at 11:30 a.m. and include the Ride, lunch, musical entertainment, prizes, and much more. Local sponsors include Jitney Jungle, WLBT-3 and Z106.7 FM Radio. Money raised from the Ride will support the March of Dimes Campaign "Saving babies, together."

Through community services, education, advocacy, and research, the March of Dimes works toward its mission to prevent birth defects and infant mortality.

Entry fee is $25.00 and passenger entry fee is $10.00. For additional information, call the March of Dimes at 362-8947 or 800-842-5117.

Navy Log enrollments sought for naval service veterans

With Year 2000 right around the corner, U.S. Navy Memorial in Washington is encouraging naval service personnel - Navy, Coast Guard, Marines and Merchant Marine, active service or veterans - to get themselves enrolled in the Navy Log in Washington, D.C. by November 11, the last Veterans Day before the Year 2000.

"Enroll in the century in which you served," urges Rear Admiral Hank McKinney, president of the Navy Memorial Foundation.

The Log has thus far collected names and service information of 238,000 present and former naval personnel.

Most of the names are of living persons - self-enrolled or by gift tributes from friends or families - but a large number are of deceased veterans enrolled in the Log by their descendants or by surviving shipmates.

All enrollments form a part of America's enduring naval heritage, a permanent and publicly accessible video register available for viewing at the Naval Heritage Center next to the Memorial on Pennsylvania Avenue, midway between the White House and the Capitol, or on the Memorial's Internet web site, www.lonesailor.org.

Each Log entry contains the entrant's name, date and place of birth, dates and branch of naval service, highest rate or rank attained, up to five top medals and awards and five duty stations.

Log enrollments help support the Memorial's values-based educational programs, which honor, preserve and celebrate America's enduring naval heritage.

Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard or Merchant Marine - active service or veteran - desiring to enroll should send his or her name, date and place of birth, dates of naval service, highest rate or rank, up to five awards received and five duty stations served-accompanied by a $25 tax-deductible enrollment donation - to Navy Log-Dept Y2000, P. O. Box 96570, Washington, DC 20077-7685.

A head-and-shoulders portrait photo may be added for an additional $25 (photos cannot be returned). Enrollments make welcome gifts to veterans. Sponsored enrollments are also sought from relatives of deceased naval veterans.

The Navy Memorial Foundation is a non-profit, tax-exempt organization that receives no government support for building and operating the Navy Memorial and adjoining Naval Heritage Center.

ESPECIALLY For Seniors

Hancock Senior Citizens Center offers fun, service

Over 60 years old and want to do something wonderful? Then come join the excitement at the Center.

The Hancock County Senior Center serves those citizens who live in all parts of the county with the following services: meals, transportation, information and referrals, arts and crafts, opportunities for volunteers, and other services as special needs are requested or talents offered.

The center's singing group entertains at various nursing homes and civic events. Its art classes include a framing division for the artists. Trips are planned to various special events as well as for local needs such as to the center, marketing, doctor's appointments, etc.

The center provides meals-on-wheels to incapacitated seniors (delivered by volunteers) and meals at the center for those who spend the day there.

The center is also a Red Cross Emergency Center for seniors in case of a hurricane. It is a "home away from home" for many lonely seniors.

Located on the corner of Bookter and St. Francis streets, the center serves Hancock County citizens 60 years of age or older under the Older American Act.

The sponsoring organization, Hancock County Human Resource Agency, contracts with the South Mississippi Planning and Development District, Area Agency on Aging for Senior Center services, congregate meals and home-delivered meals.

The Senior Center provides many services including, but not limited to the following:

Art, ceramics, framing, counted cross stitch, crochet, plastic canvas, shirt decorating, quilting and sewing class. The center also has information and referral, counseling, entertainment and recreational field trips, many health care services, i.e. screening from local health care providers.

Transportation is provided through a contract with Coast Transit Authority for most seniors in the county to bring them into the center to take them to the local doctor, grocery store, bill paying, etc.

The center has a contract to provide 98 frozen home-delivered meals to homebound seniors each week. It serves 20 hot meals at the center four days per week, under a state-wide food contract with Valley Foods.

In addition to those meals, it also provides a potluck lunch on Fridays prepared by staff members. The center also provides a morning snack with donations from local clubs, churches and individuals.

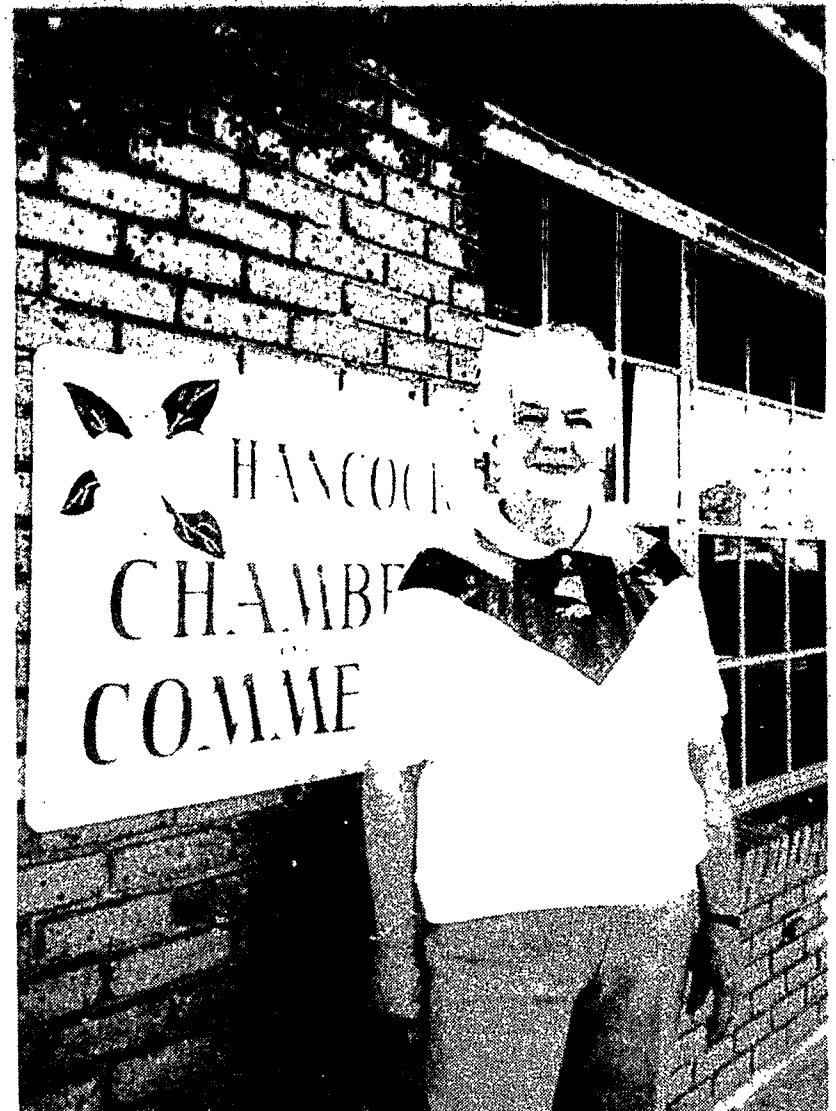

The AAA contracts with Lifeline for one full-time homemaker for about two hours per week for needy seniors to do light housekeeping or errands for them.

For more information, call the center at 467-9292 from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Among other attractions the Hancock Senior Citizens Activity Center offers:

Seniors: How to Assure Your Family's Financial Security

(PX) — There's more to passing on a sizable estate to your family than saving frugally or being a wizard on Wall Street.

Keeping your assets (home, securities, savings, pension) safe from the tax collector is one challenge that a well-constructed will can accomplish. However, according to attorney Charles Chernofsky, a will can, and should, do a lot more.

Your will should specify which friends and members of your family will receive specific items in your household, like furniture or jewelry, as well as cash bequests, along with what organizations will receive charitable bequests.

If seniors don't already have wills, Chernofsky stresses, they are putting their estates in serious jeopardy. Estates of people who die without a will are subject to the laws of the state in which they lived. The state decides who gets what, without regard to the wishes of the deceased. He says that in such situations, the entire estate usually goes to the spouse and children of the deceased, with nothing given to other close relatives or friends.

However, people without wills are not the only ones at risk. Even those who have wills may be. A good example is a client of Chernofsky's. The client, a 58-year-old who owns his own business, had a will prepared 25 years ago. At that time, he had two young children and worked for a corporation. His concern was assuring a college education for his youngsters and financial security for his wife.

With his children now married, a new grandchild for whom he wants to start a college-tuition fund, and retirement only a few years away, the client's needs have changed dramatically since his last will was written. Chernofsky advised his client to have a new will prepared as soon as possible, since the existing one covers none of his current life situations.

Chernofsky has co-authored a book and companion CD-ROM, "Step-By-Step Legal Forms and Agreements." Along with wills and living wills, the book and CD-ROM contain 215 essential forms for personal and business use. For example, they include a bill of sale for a car or boat, residential leases, forms for starting a business, corporate forms, a prenuptial agreement, and many more. All forms are fully enforceable in every state (with the exception of Louisiana, whose laws differ from the rest of the United States), and are the same full-length documents attorneys use.

Designed for ordinary people without any legal background, the CD-ROM contains the same forms as are in the book, along with simple instructions. The software makes filling in the forms quick and easy. For example, it takes only 15 minutes or so to complete a will. The award-winning software runs on computers using any version of Windows.

Readers of this newspaper are being offered a special price for the book and CD-ROM — only $49.95, plus $6 shipping (instead of the regular price of $79.95). Be sure to mention the name of this newspaper to get the special price.

The book and software are only available by mail order. Send a check or complete credit-card information, including expiration date, to Round Lake Publishing, 31 Bailey Ave., Ridgefield, CT 06877. Credit-card holders also may call 24 hours a day: 1-800-243-1515, ext. 125. There is a 30-day money-back guarantee.

Wills are not the only legal documents that impact the assets of a senior. Another is what used to be called a living will, but now is commonly referred to as an advance directive. While a will contains the wishes of a person after his death, Chernofsky explains, an advance directive voices their wishes while they are alive.

Most situations covered by an advance directive involve medical treatment, and deal with whether various kinds of life-sustaining methods are to be used on the patient.

The risk of not having a living will affects not only seniors' health treatment but their estates as well. Chernofsky points out that a terminally ill person quickly can deplete his assets by receiving expensive experimental medical treatment, frequently not covered by Medicare, or being maintained on expensive life-support equipment, none of which the patient may want. An advance directive would prevent this. PX99A371

You: 65 And Retired?

(NAPS)—So you're 65 and retired! Are you building for 85? Inflation, even at three or four percent, is constantly reducing the buying power of your income.

Experts report that over the years, dividend income growth from good common stock keeps up with or surpasses inflation. Setting aside $50 or $100 a month today in the stock of growing companies can add that much more each month to your income in fifteen years.

An investment plan such as the Low-Cost Investment Plan offered by the National Association of Investors Corporation (NAIC) lets you build that way with small monthly payments. For a free brochure about this plan, write NAIC, 1515 East Eleven Mile Road, Royal Oak, MI 48067.

Pleasant Surprise: Assets At College Time

(NAPS)—Whether you're a grandparent now or expect to be one someday, there are things you can do now that can help your grandchildren.

The first is to learn about investing and the next is to help them accumulate funds for college. One way to do this might be to enroll in a low-cost investment plan. The one from the National Association of Investors Corporation lets you invest as little as $10 to $25 a month.

On birthdays, holidays and other occasions, you can add to their stock holdings. With your gifts and dividends reinvested, they'll have some assets at college time.

Diet, Exercise Key To Seniors' Health

(NU)—As you age, it's important to get enough exercise and eat a healthful diet. But, experts say, "healthful diet" means different things to different people, especially when those people are over 65.

While the dietary key to good health for everyone is to eat a well-balanced diet of foods from all the food groups, older people have some special needs.

For instance, studies show that the elderly produce less stomach acid than younger people do, which interferes with the body's absorption of vitamins B-12 and B-6, folacin, iron, calcium and zinc.

Deficiencies in these nutrients can affect the nervous system and lead to depression and memory loss. And insufficient calcium can cause osteoporosis, or loss of bone mass. When bones become thin and brittle, they break more easily.

Liver, red meat, poultry, eggs, milk and shellfish supply vitamin B-12. Whole grains, dried beans, red meat, poultry, potatoes, bananas, eggs and nuts provide vitamin B-6. Dairy products are a good source of calcium.

Exercise For Health

Even for the elderly, exercise is essential for health, experts say.

Regular weight-bearing exercise deposits calcium in the bones, reducing the risk of osteoporosis. Exercise also helps people over 65 maintain muscle mass, facilitates respiratory function, mobility and ambulatory capacity, and improves overall strength.

Aerobic exercise promotes cardiovascular health.

Nutrition In An Eggshell

Another essential for good health is maintaining normal body weight. Experts recommend eating nutrient-dense foods—foods with a high proportion of nutrients to calories.

Good choices include fish, poultry, eggs, low-fat dairy products, grains, fruits and vegetables.

To get you started, here are some ways to add eggs to your diet:

- Use leftover meals and vegetables in omelets or skillet scrambles.

- Keep hard-cooked eggs handy for quick and easy snacks. They can be stored in the refrigerator in their shells for up to one week.

- Sprinkle chopped hard-cooked eggs on salads and soups. Also use them in casseroles or pasta salad.

- Cook scrambled eggs in the microwave for a quick and easy breakfast.

- If you're one of the minority of people who need to watch their dietary cholesterol intake, use one egg and two egg whites per serving.

For more ideas, send for the brochure Gold Star Diet Tips for the Platinum Generation. It's available from the Egg Nutrition Center, Dept. NU, 2301 M St., N.W., Suite 405, Washington, DC 20037.

Implants Vs. Dentures:

What's Best For Your Mouth?

(NU)—Dental implants have been touted as the greatest thing since toothpaste. Before you take the plunge—and a huge chunk out of your checkbook—consider the pros and cons of dental implants over dentures.

"Sure, we're taking better care of our teeth and we should expect to keep them longer than our grandparents," says Dr. Howard Strassler, D.M.D., associate professor and director of operative dentistry at the University of Maryland Dental School.

"Nevertheless, more than one in six Americans wears some form of a full or partial removable denture. And with the aging of the population, more and more people will be faced with the decision of how to replace lost teeth."

Strassler says implants today have a higher success rate than ever before. Many patients are opting for the implants, which cost from $1,500 to $20,000 for a full mouth restoration. Long-term results are just now being evaluated. Dentures, on the other hand, cost as little as $1,100 for a full set of uppers and lowers, and can last seven to ten years or more.

Implants Not For All

Strassler emphasizes that not every tooth-loss patient is a candidate for dental implants. Patients must be in good health, able to tolerate anesthesia, and have sufficient hard bone in the jaw to permit placing the implant. Otherwise, implants may be unsuccessful. Bone loss or damage to adjacent teeth can also occur when implants fail.

But Strassler says all is not lost for those who can't afford dental implants or are not good candidates for the procedure.

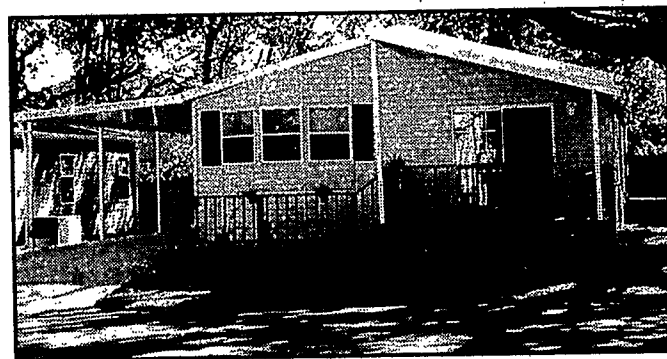

Removable dentures are a more comfortable and attractive option than ever. "New computer-imaging techniques and the enormous advances made in denture materials have enabled dental professionals to offer their patients excellent-fitting dentures that look and can function like natural teeth," he says. "Home denture maintenance has also made great strides with new products on the market, such as Rembrandt, that keep dentures looking new, remove plaque and calculus buildup to prevent discomfort and stain, and also eliminate the need for overnight soaking."

Fry guy

Scott Lemon, of Main Street United Methodist Church in Bay St. Louis, prepares his "World Famous" hushpuppies for the annual Main Street United Methodist Men's fish fry. Each year, the group donates and prepares the fish as part of a dinner for the church.

The "WORD" for the Week

Dennis J. Prutow, Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

The King

The Bible is full of blessings and curses. Jesus utters them both. Many of His blessings are in the form of beatitudes. "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God" (Matthew 5:8). The opposite is the pronouncement of woe. "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites!"

For you are like whitewashed tombs which on the outside appear beautiful, but inside they are full of dead men's bones and all uncleanness. So you, too, outwardly appear righteous to men, but inwardly you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness" (Matthew 23:27-28).

Jesus follows the pattern of the Old Testament. There were blessings in following God. "Blessed shall you be in the city, and blessed shall you be in the country" (Deuteronomy 28:3). We'll take that for sure.

The opposite was also true. "Cursed is he who does not confirm the words of this law by doing them" (Deuteronomy 27:26). We do not like such statements, especially if they apply to us. Those who are particularly heinous villains deserve to be cursed. In fact, we'll curse them ourselves.

In this, we step over the line. We may say some people are praiseworthy and others are blameworthy. But should we, can we, actually bless and curse? Isn't this the prerogative of Christ? He is the King of kings.

He is the true Master of the Universe.

St. Ann-St. John Church News

When your knees knock, kneel on them.
When I am afraid, I will trust in You.

Psalms 56:3

God may allow our hearts to be broken so He can get deeper into them. For though He wounds, He binds and heals again. He will deliver you again and again, so that no evil can touch you.

Job 5:18-19

Consider that this day never dawns again.

Dante

Discontent makes rich men poor while contentment makes poor men rich . . . and be content with what you have, because God has said, "Never will I leave you, never will I forsake you."

Hebrews 13:5

Few delights can equal the mere presence of one whom we trust utterly.

George MacDonald

Friends, books, a cheerful heart, and conscience clear are the most choice companions we have here.

William Mather

The parish Seafood Jamboree, scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 23 is just around the corner.

The bands scheduled to play have been engaged, so let us all pray for a day filled with sunshine.

If you wish to help in any way, contact the parish office.

Vacation graduation

Luke Boob, left, Connor Bell and Quint Pannell perform during the Vacation Bible School "graduation" program, under the direction of Shanna Boyer at Main Street United Methodist Church in Bay St. Louis.

St. Joseph's to present 'Blast from the Past'

The CYO at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Pearlington will host a "Blast from the Past Dance" Saturday, Oct. 23, 7-10 p.m.

The dance will be held in the parish hall for young people, 10 to 14. Admission is $2.50 per person.

"Come dressed in your favorite costume from the 50s on up as there will be a costume contest," said spokesperson Ann Seale.

The event will be well chaperoned and is the first fund raiser of the year for the CYO.

“Organized religion is a sham and a crutch for weak-minded people who need strength in numbers. It tells people to go out and stick their noses into other people's business. We usually can manage to come up with some good excuses for our actions. God's laws are unchanging; however, things that were wrong and frowned upon a few years ago, have now apparently become acceptable for some people in our society. Although a person normally knows when they have sinned, at times it is hard to admit, even to ourselves, that we may have done something wrong. The good news is that regardless of whether we make good or bad choices in our lives, God still loves us, and the Bible tells us that we all have sinned. In Romans, chapter eight, we are told that there is no condemnation now for those who live in union with Christ Jesus. This does not indicate that we should continue to sin, but rather, we should try to live as God wants us to. We are also told that human nature is weak and those who obey their human nature cannot please God. If Christ lives in you, the Spirit is life for you because you have been put right with God.

If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just, and will forgive our sins and cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

'Image' of the South examined at Millsaps: Renowned artists to speak at conference

Midnight and magnolias, cotton and carpetbaggers, the Old Guard and the New South, Civil War and Civil Rights. All represent the contradictory and often stereotypical image of the South. But the true heart of the South is perhaps best revealed through the creativity of its countless artists and writers, who record its eccentricity and mystery with spellbinding accuracy.

Millsaps will celebrate that creativity when it hosts the 1999 Image Conference, titled "Carried to the Heart: Faith and Doubt in Contemporary Southern Art and Literature," Nov. 11 through Nov. 14.

The conference will feature a diverse group of Southern writers, artists, musicians and actors, and will focus on the relationship between art and religion in the South.

Scheduled events include readings, lectures, concerts, film screenings, a major photography exhibit co-sponsored by The Oxford American and an ecumenical worship service featuring a gospel choir.

Highlights of the conference include an appearance by Alfred Uhry, author of the critically-acclaimed play Driving Miss Daisy.

Uhry is the only American writer ever to win a Pulitzer Prize, an Oscar and a Tony. Actors from New Stage Theatre will offer a reading from one of Uhry's most recent plays, The Last Night of Ballyhoo.

Will D. Campbell, novelist and Baptist minister, will add a unique theological perspective to the conference.

Widely respected for his leadership in the Civil Rights movement, Campbell is also the author of Brother to a Dragonfly, which won the Lillian Smith Prize, the Christopher Award and a National Book Award nomination.

Miller and Lucinda Williams will offer a special presentation as well. Lucinda Williams, widely considered to be one of the finest singer-songwriters of our time, won a 1998 Grammy Award for Best Folk Album for Car Wheels on a Gravel Road.

Miller Williams, her father, is one of America's most distinguished poets, winning national recognition even before he delivered the inaugural poem at President Clinton's second inauguration. The father and daughter duo will present an intimate evening of poetry and acoustic songs guaranteed to entertain and delight.

The fee for the three-day conference is $165 and includes all events and some meals. Daily rates and special rates for students, senior citizens and groups are also available.

To register or find out more about the conference, visit <http://www.imagejournal.org/events.html>. For a brochure or for more information, please call (601) 974-1033.

UM presents pianist Nelita True

The University of Mobile will present internationally known pianist Nelita True in concert and as a workshop clinician Oct. 22-23 during the university's annual "Master Musician Series."

Formerly Distinguished Professor at the University of Maryland, True is currently chair of the piano faculty at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N.Y.

Many of her students have won top prizes at national and international competitions, including an unprecedented five first prizes in national Music Teachers National Association competitions.

True will perform in concert Friday, Oct. 22 at 7:30 p.m. in Moorer Auditorium on the University of Mobile campus.

The program will include works by W. A. Mozart, Arnold Schoenberg, Robert Schumann, Claude Debussy, Gabriel Faure and Emmanuel Chabrier.

A reception hosted by the Mobile Music Teachers Association will follow the performance.

A workshop for piano instructors, students and parents will be Oct. 23, 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m. on the UM campus.

The workshop will feature lectures and master classes for students of all levels.

Concert tickets are $15 for adults and $8 for students. The workshop is $18, or $25 including lunch with True.

A special package of workshop/lunch/concert is $40.

Deadline for lunch reservations is Oct. 10.

For information, call (334) 675-5990, ext. 2420 or 1-800-956-7267.

Make a difference in someone's life

Youth For Understanding, founded in 1951 as a private, non-profit, educational organization is dedicated to international understanding and world peace.

"We are an international exchange program for high school students, some of which may be living in your community this year," said Doty Metcalf, CVM, Volunteer Services coordinator.

"We need volunteers to host these students. Many kinds of families are selected to host YFU students: married couples with or without children, single parents, as well as families with teenagers.

"YFU hosts families provide room, board, guidance and the experience of what everyday life is like in America."

If you would like more information about YFU or are interested in volunteering for YFU, call Doty Metcalf, at 1800-872-0200.
